

SCOTTISH CLASSIC RACING MOTOTCYCLE CLUB

2015 TRIALS

For 2015 the Club Trials Championship will be run over eight rounds with the best six scores to count towards the Club Championship.

This year the Closed to Club trials will continue to follow the format started in 2011 where the events will be run over 2 routes, the normal B Route and the W Route. The W route is more suitable for beginners, both Adults and Youths, novices and riders on more standard Pre '65 and Twin Shock bikes. The B Route is to be kept as it is at present as regards to the level of severity and will continue to be marked with the traditional red and blue markers while the W Route will be marked with double white markers. Hopefully this will continue to tempt more of the older bikes out at the events. Although we had a small turn-out, the class introduced in 2013 for Aircooled Monos such as TY Yamahas will continue for 2015.

Unfortunately, as you can see from above, we have had to change the date of the Bonhill trial to that the Rigside trial was to have run on. This is to avoid both the LMCC Clubman Two Day and the British Twin Shock Championship round running at Newcastleton. Rigside will now be run on 25/10/2015.
